MS. SUSAN AKPAN

She is an ordained Pastor and currently work as a Chaplain in 2 homes for the elderly owned and run by the same organisation. As a chaplain, I minister to the religious and spiritual needs of the residents by way of one-to-one interactions, conducting worship services, holding Bible studies & visits to our residents in hospitals. Upon a resident's passing, I could conduct the funeral service if called upon to do so by the relatives. Another aspect of my pastoral role is to minister to women who are passing through trying times. I do this by way of encouraging them with the word of God, praying for and with them. The aim is to ensure that these women are able to navigate through the challenging times, come out stronger and better in order to fulfill destiny. Everyone, including women, have a God ordained destiny which I encourage them to identify and walk in. No one is a write-off.
